By California Dreams™

Update for Apple® IIGS® version

The Apple IIGS version of Club Backgammon contains some variations not mentioned in the User's Manual.

Getting Started

Insert the Club Backgammon diskette in your disk drive. Turn on your monitor and computer, and the program will be booted automatically.

Sound Off Option

The Options menu for the IIGS offers the Sound Off selection which allows you to toggle the sound for the game on or off. To turn the sound off, select the Sound Off option. To turn the sound back on, re-select the same option.

Keyboard commands

You may use certain keys on the keyboard to issue the same commands as found in the pull-down menus. To use the keyboard, you must press the command key ("apple key") simultaneously with the chosen letter.

Key	Command
N	start a new game
L	load a previously saved game
S	save a game
Q	quit
O	toggle the sound on or off
U	undo the last move

Restarting a Computer vs. Computer game

To restart the Computer vs. Computer demo in automatic mode (the mode in which the dice are automatically thrown by each player), double click on the dice.

Log Memory Full

When the log memory is full, you have the option of printing the contents of the log before it is overwritten by any new log entries.

Printer Problems

When you start to print a game log or individual moves in a game, the printer may hang. Turn the printer off and then on again, and the log should be printed without interruption.

Copy Protection Question

Use the delete key to erase any mistakes that you might make when answering the copy protection question.
